NOTICE OF APPARENT LIABILITY FOR FORFEITURE

Released: December 11, 2002

By the Enforcement Bureau, Tampa Office:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture (“NAL”), we find Timothy J. Massett apparently liable for a forfeiture in the amount of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for willful violation of Section 301 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (“Act”).¹ Specifically, we find Timothy J. Massett apparently liable for the operation of an FM broadcast station on frequency 91.5 MHz located at 406 Chelsea Street, in Jacksonville, Florida, without Commission authorization.

II. BACKGROUND

2. On September 11, 2002, agents from the FCC Enforcement Bureau’s Tampa Field Office (“Tampa Office”) operating an FCC direction-finding vehicle in the Jacksonville, Florida, area, investigated a radio broadcast station on frequency 91.5 MHz. The station transmitted no identification. Based on direction-finding techniques, the agents determined that the source of the signal on 91.5 MHz was a building located at 406 Chelsea Street in Jacksonville, Florida. A coaxial cable from an FM ground plane type antenna entered the building. Based on field strength measurements taken by the agents of the station’s signal, a Commission authorization was required to operate the station.² The agents inspected the radio station accompanied by Mr. Timothy J. Massett, the lessee of the building. Inside the building, Mr. Massett showed the agents an FM broadcast transmitter and associated audio equipment. Mr. Massett stated that he had no license authorizing operation of the radio station. Mr. Massett deactivated the transmitter. Mr. Massett admitted that live bands and disc jockeys operated the station from the premises and that Mr. Massett collected rent for the operation of the radio station. Mr. Massett also admitted that he reset the CD player when the music stopped just prior to the agents’ inspection.

III. DISCUSSION

² See 47 C.F.R. § 15.239(b).

3. Section 301 of the Act sets forth generally that no person shall use or operate any apparatus for the transmission of energy of communications or signals by radio within the United States except under and in accordance with the Act and with a license. On September 11, 2002, Timothy J. Massett operated radio transmitting equipment on the frequency 91.5 MHz without benefit of the required Commission authorization.

4. Based on the evidence before us, we find that on September 11, 2002, Timothy J. Massett willfully³ violated Section 301 of the Act by operating radio transmission apparatus without a license.

5. Pursuant to Section 1.80(b)(4) of the Rules,⁴ the base forfeiture amount for operating a radio station without a Commission authorization is $10,000. In assessing the monetary forfeiture amount, we must also take into account the statutory factors set forth in Section 503(b)(2)(D) of the Act, which include the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation, and with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and other such matters as justice may require.⁵ Considering the entire record and applying the factors listed above, this case warrants a $10,000 forfeiture.
